

Blumbergs' Snapshot of the Ontario Charity Sector 2014

By Mark Blumberg (October 15, 2016)

We recently reviewed the T3010 Registered Charity Information Return database for 2014 as part of the Sean Blumberg Transparency Project. We had previously provided a 2014 overview of the whole Canadian registered charity sector in the Blumbergs' Snapshot of the Canadian Charity Sector 2014. We have taken a subset of the 2014 T3010 data to look at only registered charities based in Ontario. This article provides a snapshot of the registered charity sector in Ontario based on the 2014 T3010 filings, which is the last complete set of T3010 information available to the public.

The Canadian charity sector is a vital part of Canadian society and economy with revenue in total of over $246 billion and expenditures of about $228 billion. A large part of that charity sector is based in Ontario and it is important that there be up-to-date statistical information on the registered charity sector in Ontario.

Some of the highlights of the Blumbergs' Snapshot of the Ontario Charity Sector in 2014, 2012 and 2011. There was no Ontario snapshot in 2013.

Number of registered charities in Ontario	30,547	30,260	30,092
Ontario charities identified themselves as active	23,981	26,760	26,736
Ontario charities identified themselves as inactive	5,482	2,619	2471

Ontario charities that made gifts to other charities or qualified donees	12,062	11,878	11, 837
Total revenue for Ontario charities	$100.9 billion	$90.9 billion	$86 billion
Total expenditures of Ontario charities	$95.7 billion	$87.7 billion	$84 billion.
Ontario charities who conducted activities outside of Canada	2412	2413	2,398
Amount spent by Ontario charities outside of Canada	$2.2 billion	$2 billion	$2.1 billion
Ontario charities received funds from CIDA	102	116	127
Ontario charities that identified carrying on political activities	229	164	181
Ontario charities that had employment expenses	13,956	13,570	13,376
Ontario charities that did not have any employment expenses	16,298	16,289	16,274
Amount spent by Ontario charities on salaries and other compensation	$54.5 billion	$49.5 billion	$46 billion
Value of official donation receipts issued by Ontario charities	$7.7 billion	$7 billion	$6.8 billion

The only statistic that we adjusted from the raw numbers is the statistic on political activities to take into account some obvious mistakes. It was adjusted from $21 million to $14 million.

The Sean Blumberg Transparency Project is in memory of my youngest brother Sean Blumberg. Sean was a sweet, kind person, a great brother who helped me on a number of occasions with many tasks including the time consuming and arduous task of reviewing T3010 databases and making them into something useful. As part of the Sean Blumberg Transparency Project, Blumbergs will be releasing information on the Canadian charity sector to provide a better understanding of the size, scope, complexity and challenges of the sector.

Please review the caveats at the end about the reliability and usage of T3010 information.

Thank you to Celeste Bonas, an intern at Blumbergs, for helping with this project and to my late brother Sean for being such an inspiration.

A registered charity may pursue political activities only if the activities are non-partisan, related to its charitable purposes, and limited in extent. A political activity is any activity that explicitly communicates to the public that a law, policy or decision of any level of government inside or outside Canada should be retained, opposed, or changed.

1 Describe the charity's political activities, including gifts to qualified donees intended for political activities, and explain how these relate to its charitable purposes.

2 Identify the way the charity participated in or carried out political activities during the fiscal period.

Limitations and Caveats

There are a number of cautions in dealing with the information from the T3010. You can access the CRA Charities Listing database directly on the CRA website at: <http://www.cra-arc.gc.ca/charities/> As well, Blumberg Segal LLP has created a new website www.charitydata.ca that you might find useful.

- 1) The data in this note is based on the 2014 T3010 Registered Charity Information Return filings. Although all charities are supposed to file their T3010 within 6 months of their fiscal year end, some charities file late or do not file at all and then will lose their charitable status. Depending on the data set from CRA not every charity may have filed their T3010 or been inputted yet.
- 2) Registered charities complete the T3010 and one person signs the form. The T3010 information is not independently verified by CRA when it is posted on the CRA site or placed in the CRA database.
- 3) Although an important legal document, the T3010 is often completed by volunteers or others who may have little understanding of the nuances of the Income Tax Act (Canada), limited language skills, may not have easy access to the correct information or are in a hurry to file the form to avoid deregistration. In the case of larger institutions it is typically accountants or finance staff who prepare the T3010. One would expect greater accuracy with the larger institutions. However, as they also tend to be more complicated and involve bigger numbers the likelihood of a significant inaccuracy in their T3010 filings is great.
- 4) The T3010s are filed with CRA and in many cases needs to be coded by hand at CRA which can also introduce mistakes. Only a small number of T3010s have 2D bar code technology which can eliminate most processing errors on CRA's part. Canadian charities still cannot electronically file the T3010. However, in the 2014 Federal Budget the Federal government committed funds to create a system for electronic filing of the T3010.
- 5) In some cases those completing the T3010 for a charity are deliberately deceptive when completing the T3010. For example, an organizations knows that it has substantial fundraising or political expenses but chooses to put them under charitable activities. Or an organization claims pharmaceuticals that it can purchase for $50,000 are really worth $50 million.
- 6) Don't rely on any of this information without checking with the charity and appropriate due diligence as required.
- 7) The T3010 is a tax form which is supposed to be completed according to guidance provided by the CRA in Guide Completing the Registered Charity Information Return \(T-4033\) and also various other CRA guidances and policies. The information inputted may not conform to Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) and often the numbers will not match what is in a financial statement. You can obtain copies of financial statements, whether audited or not, on any registered charity by requesting the financial statements from CRA. These financial statements are filed with CRA but not placed on the CRA website and they can sometimes add further information.

www.canadiancharitylaw.ca

8) Some questions on the T3010 are more prone to error than others. Some questions are complicated, while others are quite straightforward. Some matters are easily quantifiable like value of official donation receipts, while others require allocation and other subjective measurements. Some questions, like revenue, are answered by almost every charity and if a charity makes a mistake the likelihood is that such a mistake will not have much impact on the bigger picture. On the other hand some numbers like political expenditures by Canadian charities are often incorrectly completed and even one or two charities by mistakenly inserting large numbers in this category can distort the picture. With the 2012 numbers the top 6 organizations listing political expenditures appear to be all mistakes. This seems to have inflated the numbers by about 1000%. You can see my article "Did the University of Windsor spend \$285 million on political activities in 2012". For example the 2013 political numbers were $171 million on the T3010. If one reviews the actual organizations and the obvious transpositional errors the number is probably about $26 million.

9) The T3010 asks certain questions. Many important questions are not asked on the T3010. Relying on the T3010 to make decisions on whether a charity is efficient or worthwhile to support is prone to failure. We have established a website at www.smartgiving.ca which discusses in detail questions donors may want to ask before donating to charity.
